The Alumni webinar series organized by the Faculty of Management Sciences on 28th August 2020. Ms.K.N.Priya welcomed the gatherings and introduced the speaker Mr.Sooraj Prabhakaran alumnus. He gave an insight about a career as Hospital administrator. Mr.Sooraj, our alumni (batch 2002-2004), is currently designated as Manager – Managing Director's office, Ahalia Medical Group, UAE. While sharing his experience of becoming a hospital administrator, he emphasized on the importance of skill of the manager. He told as manager we need to be aware of all the concepts by hand such that we are confident enough to implement them practically. He also addressed how a candidate must appear for an interview. There, he told as a recruited while interviewing the candidates the first impression plays a major role followed by his competencies. Also in the view of the current pandemic, the managers are expected to be agile by the organizations. Post pandemic, the candidates with sound knowledge of analytics will have an edge over others, he says. Mr.Sooraj also shared how Ramachandra FOM helped him gain the managerial skills and knowledge that had helped him rise to this position. All this he answered while taking few questions from the participants. The session ended with a thank you note to the speaker by Ms.Priya on behalf of students and Faculty of Management.
